

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOEBIUS SYNDROME FOUNDATION NAMES EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Pilot Grove, MO. (August 1, 2021) The Moebius Syndrome Foundation is pleased to announce that Jenny Whitman has been named executive director. Since January of 2018, Jenny has served as the Events and Programs Manager for the Moebius Syndrome Foundation, helping the Foundation to expand its programs and outreach efforts, and has excelled at helping the Foundation to grow despite challenges during the pandemic.

The mission of the Moebius Syndrome Foundation is to provide information and support to individuals with Moebius syndrome and their families, promote greater awareness and understanding of Moebius syndrome, and to advocate for scientific research to advance the diagnosis and treatment of Moebius syndrome and its associated conditions.

Under Ms. Whitman's leadership in her Events and Programs Manager position, the Foundation has built on its strengths of connecting with the Moebius community, developed new relationships, and strengthened existing relationships with partners and supporters. As Executive Director, Jenny plans to leverage these achievements to help the Foundation expand its outreach and fulfill its mission to a higher level.

Jacob Licht, President of the Moebius Syndrome Foundation said, "Over the past 3.5 years Jenny has excelled as our Events and Programs Manager and has become a crucial part of the Moebius syndrome community. Her enthusiasm and passion for our community is incredible, and we feel fortunate to be the beneficiaries of her talents. The Moebius Syndrome Foundation is pleased to welcome Jenny into this expanded role, and we look forward to partnering with her to take the Foundation to even higher levels."

Jenny brings with her years of professional program management experience in the international and local non-profit sector. She has personally connected with the Moebius community cares deeply for our members and valued partners.

"I am honored and humbled by the opportunity to expand my service the Moebius Syndrome Foundation as Executive Director. I've been privileged to become acquainted with many of the people whom we serve, and it is wonderful to be given the chance to make an even bigger impact for this community. The Moebius Syndrome Foundation is the leading organization in the Moebius community, and I am passionate about being a part of fulfilling their great mission and look forward to growing relationships and working closely with the Foundation's leadership and key stakeholders."

Jenny Whitman started her new role of executive director on August 1, 2021. She replaces Dina Scalone who was the executive director since July 2018. The Moebius Syndrome Foundation is grateful for Dina's many contributions and wishes her success in her new endeavors.
